Finding the “right” Harry Wright

Case Study- Our Genealogy Group 5 March 2016

- Review what you know
- Identify the possibilities
- Eliminate all who are not possible- diligent search
- Be aware of the time period and records created by historical events
- Be aware of the laws in effect at the time
- Consider the records that might contain evidence
- Remember the FAN club- Family, Associates and Neighbors
- Analyze data as collected
- Re-analyze the collected data each time you find additional items.

Collect and analyze evidence one piece at a time until enough evidence is collected to present a convincing case

Write up a narrative that includes all of the found information. Include all hypotheses and questions generated by research in this account.

The use of original documents and the constant analysis of evidence can yield results where one thought there were none.
